J. W. Bradley's celebrated Patent
DUPLIX ELLIPTIC
(OR DOUBLE SPRING)

THE wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in all crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm Chairs, for Promenade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small space as easily and conveniently as a Silk or Muslin Dress, an invaluable quality in crinolines, not found in any Single Spring Skirt.

A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt for a single day will never after wear any other style. They will not bend or break like the Single Spring, but will preserve their perfect and graceful shape when three or four ordinary Skirts will have been turned aside as useless. The Hoops are covered with Double and Twisted Thread, and the Bottom Ribs are of oiled double springs, but twice as durable as ordinary springs, and twice as comfortable when wearing out covered, preventing the heat and chafing when drawing down the skirts, &c.

The Duplex Elliptic is a great favorite with all ladies, and is universally recommended by the Fashion Magazines as the Standard Skirt of the Fashionable World.

To enjoy the following inestimable advantages in Crinolines, viz: Superior Quality, Perfect Manufacture, Stiffness and Finish, Flexibility, Durability, Comfort and Economy, inquire for J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic, or Double Spring Skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.

CAUTION.—To guard against imposition, no person to Notice that Skirts offered as "Duplex" have the red ink stamp, viz: "J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic Skirt Springs," upon the waistband—none others are genuine. Also Notice that every Hoop will admit a pin being passed through the center, thus revealing the two (or double) springs braided together therein, which is the secret of their flexibility and strength, and a combination not to be found in any other Skirt.

For Sale in all Stores where First Class Skirts are sold, throughout the United States and elsewhere.

Manufactured by the Sole Owners of the Patent, WEST, BRADLEY & CARL, 97 Chambers & 79 & 81 Broad St., N. Y. April 23, 1867.—3m

Lime & Coal.

QUINN & REILLY have erected two addi- tional Lime Kilns, on the Railroad, and are therefore better prepared than ever to supply the best of LIME, in large or small quan- tities. Farmers and others can rely on them for a more prompt filling of their orders, and are invited to extend and continue their favors to a firm which is making every effort to accom- modate them in the best manner possible.

They will also continue to keep on hand, for sale, a good supply of the different kinds of COAL, which they will sell at small profits. Coal and Lime delivered anywhere in Gettysburg. [May 10.—1f]

THE PREMIUM MOWER & REAPER.

Dodge's Harvester.

AWARD the Special Diploma and Grand Medal of Honor as the best com- bined Mower, Hand-Raking Reaper, and Self- Raking Reaper, on exhibition at the great fair of the St. Louis Agricultural and Mechanical Association, October 6th, 1866.

OHIO AND BUCKEYE PATENTS.
At the great trial of Reapers and Mowers, at Auburn, N. Y., in July last, by the New York State Agricultural Society, this Machine was awarded the preference over all others in Class No. 3. This class was the most important of any, as it embraced Mowing, and Hand or Self-Raking Reapers in the same Machine.

This Machine has been awarded Medals and first Premiums by the Pennsylvania and Iowa State Fairs, and by hundreds of County Fairs in all parts of the country. This Machine took the first Premium at the Adams County Agricultural Fair, held at Bendersville, Sep- tember, 1866. Also.

Ball's Ohio and Russell's Screw Power.
Both first-class Machines, having sold a number of them in the last three years. They have given general satisfaction wherever used. We ask farmers before buying a machine, to call and examine these machines before purchasing elsewhere, as they will be able to make a better selection. We could produce quite a number of certificates from some of our best farmers in the county, but deem it unnecessary, as we warrant these machines to give satisfac- tion with a fair trial, or no sale. Insured for season.

Extras always kept on hand. We have made arrangements to have repairing done when needed at any time, and on moderate terms.

With the above we have for sale a number of valuable Farming Implements.

SULKY CORN PLOUGH,

Can be used for ploughing and cultivating corn—finishing one row at a time. Can also be used for loosening up corn ground or put- ting in seedling, by raising the front shovels it can be used for marking out corn ground—making two rows at a time. A Complanter can also be attached, planting two rows at a time.

CORN CRUSHERS,

For crushing corn in the ear or shelled.

STEEL COMPOSITION BELLS,

For Schools, Churches, Farms, &c.

STEEL PLOUGHS (SAVING'S PATENT), HAY- RAKES, HAND OR SELF-DRIVING GRASS MOWERS, (WILSON'S PATENT), WITH CROWELL'S GUANO ATTACHMENT, HARRIS- BURG GRASS FAN—

(HARRISBURG PATENT), combined in the 1st class ever in use in this country—an article every farmer should have—the best in the market.

Any of the above machines can be had by calling on, or addressing, the subscriber, 2 miles from Gettysburg, on the Harrisburg road, where specimen machines can be seen. WILLIAM WIBLE, Agent.

Choice Poetry.

THE SABBATH.

Fresh glides the brook and blows the gales, Yet yonder lulls the quiet mill! The whirling wheel, the rushing sail, How motionless and still!

Six days of toil, poor child of Cain, Thy strength the slave of toil may be, The seventh thy limbs escape the chain, A God has made thee free!

Ah! tender was the law that gave This holy respite to the breast, To breathe the gale, to watch the wave, And know the wheel may rest!

But where the waves the gentlest glide, What image charms to lift thine eyes? The spirit reflected on the tide Invites thee to the skies.

To teach the soul its nobler worth, Thy rest from mortal toil is given; Go, snatch the brief reprieve from earth And pass—a guest to heaven.

They tell thee, in their dreaming sleep, Of power from old dominion hurled, When rich and poor, with Justice' rule, Shall share the altered world.

Alas! since time itself began, The fable hath not faded the hour; Each age must trample power in man, But sub-jects man to power.

Yet every seventh day, at least, One bright reprieve shall be known; Man's world awhile has surely ceased, When God proclaims His own.

Six days may rank divide the poor, O, Dives, from thy banquet-hall, The seventh, the Father opens the door And holds His feast for all!

LOVE AND HELP EACH OTHER.

How happy we might ever be If we would help each other— Assistance lend to foe or friend, And make each man a brother. It must be right in his hot fight, To help our comrades on, For victory can only be By Union's firm strength won.

How happy we could always be If we would love each other; 'Twas a decree from One whom we Should revere before another, Love shall 'Twill be a joy to thee When death's cold hand is near; You would not cure hatred to bear To Heaven's love-blessed sphere.

How happy we should ever be, Nor heed dark clouds of sorrow, Hope's kindly light should banish night, And point us to God's reward. Before we yield our life's rough fight, To doleful fate's way, Let us still hope though from grief's exp We quaff from day to day.

Miscellaneous.

Our Childhood's Home.

Much has been written and said on this sub- ject, and yet it never runs out. For is there one of earth's pilgrims who has come to years of maturity who does not look back, with feelings of joy to that loved spot where he was wont to gather with loved ones around a home fire-side.

He may cross the blue sea, wander for many years in a stranger land, revel in all earth's pleasures, but sometime in the midst of revelry a chime from "memory's bells" will fall upon his ear, and he will pause to think for a mo- ment—

"Of his home o'er the deep."

His eyes may be greeted with beautiful scenery, the fragrance of rare flowers may per- fume the air, but his mind will wander back to the fields and groves around the home of his early years. He will think of the vines over his mother's window, and will exclaim within himself, "they were far more beautiful than all this I am gazing upon." Such is the power home memories have over all the heart.

Oh, you who have happy homes prize them well; bind their influence about your heart, or when you are called to wander far from them you will have naught but pleasant memories to bear with you. Give earnest heed to the lessons of wisdom which are taught there and they will bear golden fruit in after years.

Brightening all it Can.

The day had been dark and gloomy, when suddenly, toward night, the clouds broke, and the sun's bright rays streamed through, shed- ding a flood of golden light upon the country. A sweet voice at the window called out, in joyful tones: "Look! O look! papa, the sun is brightening all it can!"

"Brightening all it can? so it is," answered papa; "and you can be like the sun if you choose."

"How, pa? tell me how."

"By looking happy, and smiling on us all day, never letting any fearful rain come into the blue of those eyes; only be happy and good, that's all."

The next day the music of the child's voice filled our ears from sunrise to dark; the little heart seemed full of light and love, and when asked why she was so happy, she replied, laughingly: "Why? don't you see, papa, I'm the sun? I'm brightening all I can."

"And filling the house with sunshine and joy," answered papa.

Cannot little children be like the sunny day—brightening all they can? Try it chil- dren.—Child at Home.

As the violet grows low, and covers itself with its own tears. Such is humility.

Time Passing.

Have you ever seen those marble statues in some public square or garden, which art has so finished with a perennial fountain, that through the lips, or through the hands, the clear water flows in a perpetual stream, on, on, on forever; and the marble stands there—passive, cold, mak- ing no effort to arrest the gliding water. It is so that time flows through the heads of men, swift, never pausing till it has run itself out: and there is the man, petrified into a marble sleep, not feeling what it is which is passing away forever.

It is so, just so, that the destiny of nine men out of ten accomplishes itself, slipping away from them, aimless, till it is too late. And we are asked, with all the solemn thoughts which crowd around an approaching eternity, what has been our life and what we intend it shall be? Yesterday, last week, last year—they are gone. Yesterday, for example, was such a day as never was before, and never can be again. Out of darkness and eternity it was born, new, fresh day; into darkness and eternity it sank again forever. It had a voice calling to us, of its own. Its own work, its own duties, what were we doing yesterday? Idling, wasting away the time in idleness and luxurious litera- ture—not as life's relaxation but as life's busi- ness? Thrilling our heart with the excitement of life? continuing now to spend the day most pleasantly? Was that our duty? Sleep, brethren! all that is but sleep. And now let us remember this, there is a day coming when that sleep will be rudely broken with a shock; there is a day in our future lives when our time will be counted, not by years, nor by months, nor yet by hours, but by minutes, the day when unmistakable symptoms shall announce that the messengers of death have come to us.—F. W. Robertson.

Hope and Courage.

True hope is based on energy of character. A strong mind always hopes, and has always come to hope, because it knows the mutability of human affairs, and how slight a circum- stance may change the whole course of events. Such a spirit, too, rests upon itself; it is not confined to particular objects; and if at last all should be lost, it has saved itself its own integrity and worth. Hope awakens courage, while despondency is the last of all evils; it is the abandonment of good—the giving up of the battle of life with dead nothingness. He who can implant courage in the human soul is the best physician. To seek to govern men by their fears and their wants is an unworthy pur- pose: the desire to rule by means of cowardice. Love inspires courage and hope, and this is doubly the giver and preserver of life. What- soever teaches boldness to combat the manifold evils and assaults of life, enables us to win the crown of victory. Special care, therefore, ought to be taken in education to teach what true courage is—as well in social and domestic as in public affairs—and by what means it may be best sustained.

The True Gentleman.

The following sketch is called the portrait of a true gentleman found in an old Manor House in Gloucestershire, written and framed and hung over the mantelpiece of a tapestried sit- ting room:

"The true gentleman is God's servant, the world's master, and his own man; virtue is his business, study his recreation, contentment his rest, and happiness his reward; God is his father, the church is his mother, the saints his brethren, all that need his friends; devotion is his chaplain, chastity his chamberlain; soli- tude his butler, temperance his cook, hospitali- ty his housekeeper. Providence his steward, charity his treasurer, piety his mistress of the house, and discretion his porter, to let in or out as most fit. This is his whole family made up of virtue, and he is the true master of the house. He is necessitated to take the world on his way to heaven; but he walks through it as fast as he can, and all his business by the way is to make himself and others happy. Take him in two words—a Man and a Christian."

The Great Secret of Masonry.

An anecdote is related of a brother who is noted for his acts of charity, and who is with- out a man of good presence and a great favorite among the ladies—so much so as to cause some jealousy on the part of his worthy spouse. One evening a bundle came to the house for him, and labeled "Private."

Of course this was sufficient for female curiosity, and she therefore indulged in an inspection.—Horror of horrors! blankets, baby linen, &c., greeted her astonished vision, and dreams of two families floated through her brain. The husband soon came in, and after tea, when the wife had discovered in his eye the treachery of his conduct—as she supposed—he took the jealous wife on his back, the faithless husband little imagined that she, who supposed herself so fully wronged, was hovering after him. He halted before a small tenebrous, and entered. Here she paused to hold a council of war. What tactics to follow she was in doubt, but, determined to storm the citadel, she knocked, and hastily brushing past the little child who answered the summons, she stood in an instant before her astonished husband, the embodiment of injured innocence. Her feelings were about to find expression, when the scene before her caused her to pause. A pale and careworn man shivering over the ex- piring embers of a scanty fire, a poor woman on a sick bed, a babe not old enough for chris- tening, and two little girls snugly stowed away on some straw in a corner, met her ferocious gaze. She read the story at a glance, and re- turned home with her husband, a better and a wiser woman, satisfied that she had discov- ered the great secret of Masonry.

A Mexican Story.

An extraordinary story comes from Mexico relative to flour. It appears that an old miller in that locality had a very beautiful young wife, of whom he was jealous in the extreme, and took out his soulagement of that feeling in thrashing the young being. There was a certain cook, of the male species, young, hand- some and fat, who came to the mill from the hotel to buy flour, and hearing of the distress of the lovely one first, and then seeing her, be- came, of course, dreadfully in love. Some one told the miller. All the town began to talk of the fact, and to laugh at the floury one. One day the cook and the lovely one disap- peared, and merily laughed the Mexicans at the miller's misfortune—nothing went down but the scandal of the elopement of the miller's wife and the cook. The miller scowled ven- geance upon all the town, and so time passed by; nothing more was heard of the cook and the miller's wife by any one. Two years after, the miller was pleased to die, and to inform the world in a paper, which was left to be opened after his death, and to be published in the town, that the cook and his (the miller's) wife had, by his planning, eloped into an oven two years since and been baked; and that he would have got rid of them elsewhere, but for the jeering of the public; therefore he had ground them up in a large mass of corn, which the townspeople were pleased to compliment him for, as being exceedingly rich and nutri- tious, and he only hopes that they enjoy the reminiscence as much as he did the remain- der of his life that he was spared, whenever he looked upon a townsman.

A Slight Mistake.

A capital story is told of a young fellow who one Sunday strolled into a village church and during the service was electrified and gratified by the sparkling of a pair of eyes which were riveted upon his face. After the service he saw the possessor of the shining orbs leave the church alone, and emboldened by her glances, he ventured to follow her, his heart aching with rapture. He saw her look behind, and fancied she evinced some emotion at recognizing him. He then quickened his pace, and she actually slackened hers, as to let him come up with her; but we will permit the young gentleman to tell the rest in his own way:

"Noble young creature—thought I. Her artless and warm heart is superior to the bonds of custom."

I had reached within a stone's throw of her. She suddenly halted and turned her face to- ward me. My heart swelled to bursting. I reached the spot where she began to speak and I took off my hat as if doing reverence to an angel.

"Are you a pedler?" she said.

"No my dear girl, that is not my occupa- tion."

"Well, I don't know" continued she, not ve- ry bashfully, eyeing me very sternly. "I thought when I saw you in the meeting-house that you looked like a ped

BRINKERHOFF, corner of the 1st and

2d York streets, has just returned from the city with an unusually large assortment

FOR SPRING AND SUMMER WEAR,

which he will sell at prices as cannot fail to take them off very rapidly. Call and judge for yourselves. To look at the excellent material, tasteful cutting, and substantial tailoring, and then to get his low prices—

callers cannot help but buy, when they see it so much to their interest to do so.

He has Coats, Pants, Vests, of all styles and materials; Hats, Boots, and Shoes; Shirts

of all kinds; Hosiery, Gloves, Head-

kerchiefs, Neck Ties, Collars,

Suspenders, Linen and Cotton

Trunks, Valises, Umbrellas, Pocket

Knives, Segars, Snuff and Chewing

Tobacco, Pipes, Stationery, &c. — Clothing and Watches, Jewelry, with a thousand and one other articles, entirely too numerous to detail in a newspaper advertisement.

He asks the attention of the public to his stock, confident that it will please—and no one can or will sell cheaper. Don't forget the place—corner of York street and the University, Gettysburg.

The Adams Sentinel.

GETTYSBURG:
Tuesday, May 14th, 1867.

The First National Bank of Gettysburg has declared a dividend of 4 per cent., for the last six months.

The Gettysburg National Bank has declared a dividend of 5 per cent., for the same period.

New Cashier.

J. E. BARR, Esq., who has been for some time past Teller in the Gettysburg National Bank, has been elected Cashier of that Institution, in the room of Mr. Carson, resigned.

The First National Bank of Hanover has declared a dividend of 5 per cent., for the last six months.

We regret to announce the death, at Philadelphia, on the 3th inst., of GEORGE ALEXANDER SHAW, formerly of Chambersburg. His remains were taken to that place for interment. ALEXANDER was a warm and intimate friend of our childhood and manhood days, and we cannot but give a tear to his memory. He was the father of Mr. S. S. Shryock, a well known citizen of Chambersburg.

Interesting Services.

On Sabbath week, the 5th inst., the Rev. W. R. H. DEATRICH, Pastor of the Reformed Church of this place, after an appropriate sermon, based on Acts 8: 17, conferred the solemn rite of Confirmation upon sixteen candidates, some of whom are heads of families. The service was unusually solemn and deeply impressive.

Meeting of Classis.

The Classis of Zion of the Reformed Church, now in session here, embraces within its territory the counties of Perry, Cumberland, York and Adams. Its first annual meeting was held in the Reformed Church at York, Pa.

John Norbeck has been appointed Postmaster at Green Ridge, in this county, in place of John Heagy, resigned.

Rev. Dr. Seiss, of Philadelphia, will deliver the biennial Address before the Pennsylvania Society of Pennsylvania College, at the approaching Commencement.

HATS.—We notice that S. S. McCreary has just received a fresh assortment of HATS, including the different styles of Silk, Fur, Wool, Leghorn, and Straw Hats, at greatly reduced prices. Give him a call.

The fashionable game of Croquet has been introduced among the Ladies of Hanover, and gives very lively satisfaction. We learn that it is in contemplation by the Ladies of Gettysburg to introduce it here shortly.

The large amount of wheat, corn and oats, which have been kept up by our farmers, has been thrown into market with great rapidity for a short time past. The present splendid appearance of the grain crop in all parts of the country has caused a considerable decline in prices—which fact has induced a general rushing into market with the old crop. This fall in the prices is "a conservation devoutly to be wished" by the consumer, who has paid such enormous prices for the necessities of life.

After the thunder storm of Monday evening, we had almost continued falls of moderate rain until Wednesday night, about midnight, when a fierce gale of wind and rain set in, continuing almost uninterruptedly until near the morning of Thursday. We have scarcely ever experienced so severe a storm of long continuance as that of last week. Thursday was bright and cheerful, and appeared to give fresh life to every one and every thing.

A violent hailstorm passed over York county on Monday afternoon, the 6th. In the borough of York a large number of glass were broken in the Court-house, Presbyterian Church, German Lutheran Church, and in many other buildings in various parts of the town. Animals caught in the storm became terribly frightened, and in many cases it was impossible to control them.

The same storm passed over this place; but it was not of such violence, and the hail was small, doing no damage.

The Gettysburg Building Association organized on last Saturday evening by the election of the following officers:

President—Dr. E. G. Fahnestock.
Vice President—W. A. Duncan, Esq.
Treasurer—J. A. Kitchener.
Secretary—John E. McCreary.

Directors—John Gulp, John Rupp, Dr. J. W. C. O'Neal, William Christman, Col. C. H. Baehler.

Any person desiring to subscribe to the stock of the Association can have an opportunity of doing so by applying to any of the above-named gentlemen.

The Fair Grounds.

Mr. J. S. Girt, Civil Engineer, was in Gettysburg lately and laid out the Agricultural Fair Grounds. The Trotting Course will be half a mile in length, of an oblong or oval shape. The Committee is at work making preparations for the Grand Exhibition to come off in this place next fall. The ground is said to be very suitable for that purpose.

By an advertisement in our paper to-day, it will be seen that a large Menagerie and Circus will be at Gettysburg on Friday next. It is said the collection of animals is very good, and the circus displays feats of horsemanship of high character.

Soldiers' Bounties.

The following we take from the Philadelphia Press of Saturday:

It is now probable that the Secretary of War will be compelled to issue an order suspending the payment of the additional or other bounties to soldiers and their heirs, until some appropriation for that purpose is made by Congress. The funds already appropriated being exhausted, as Congress will not in all probability meet again until December, the soldiers and their families must make up their minds to bear some further delay.

The great Beauford massacre, by the Indians is now said to have been a fabrication.

Lecture of Speaker Colfax.

On Thursday evening last, the Hon. SCHUYLER COLFAX, speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives, delivered his celebrated lecture "Across the Continent," in Christ Church, Gettysburg, to a brilliant audience. The spacious building was full to overflowing—among whom we noticed a large number from neighboring towns. The speaker was introduced by Hon. EDWARD McPHERSON, in a few very happy remarks. The talented lecturer kept his audience enchained for more than an hour and a half, with his graphic and eloquent descriptions of mountain, valley and river, and the greatest curiosities in the world in every particular, which he had witnessed in his long and interesting, though hazardous journey of so many thousand miles. His description of Utah and its peculiar institutions was deeply interesting. But we cannot particularize. Mr. Colfax is a very fluent speaker, and his utterance distinct, and his whole action and varied knowledge fully account for the high position he has already attained in the Councils of the Nation. He is the architect of his own fame, and has risen by his natural energy and unblemished character. He was an Editor of a paper in Indiana for twenty years, and has only retired therefrom since his entrance into Congress. Higher honors await him.

The Diamond Distribution.

The Attorney General of Pennsylvania has, it appears (we have not seen it), published a letter arresting the progress of the Diamond Lottery for the Gettysburg Asylum, as an illegal and immoral enterprise; and he called the attention of the Courts to the subject.

The act was passed by the last Legislature of Pennsylvania, and repeals all laws against chance speculations, in its particular favor, authorizing the money for this object to be raised by this Diamond distribution—"any laws of this Commonwealth to the contrary notwithstanding." If this be so, no matter how the law came to be passed, it is the law of the land, and must remain so (if it be not unconstitutionally) until repealed by the senate body that originated it.

If the matter has been brought before the Courts, as represented, a decision will soon be made, and until then, properly, operations may cease. We are not "booked up," however, on the subject, and merely give the above statement.

Col. Halpine, of the New York Citizen writes, on the subject of the Diamond distribution as follows:

"We never were, nor could be hired to write one line in favor of the Crosby prize drawing, as it was called, nor has the 'Citizen' ever endorsed any speculation of a similar kind; but as this affair is clearly for the benefit of crippled veterans, who can be helped in no other manner, and is under the patronage of such officers as Gen. Meade, we give it our hearty 'God speed' in this making it known to the public."

The New York Citizen in an article on the project to raise a fund for the establishment of an Asylum for Invalid Soldiers, at Gettysburg, under the recent act of the Legislature, incorporating an Association for the purpose, of which Gen. Meade is President, says that in regard to the diamonds which enter into the gift distribution, there is a strange and romantic history. They are the jewels of the women of the South, sent North to New York during the recent war, and here sold for what they would fetch—we suppose to aid the rebellion. These collected, they subsequently passed into the hands of one of our wealthiest and most enterprising merchants—Mr. JOHN ANDERSON, and from his hands they have been transferred by sale to the gentlemen of high standing who are now engaged in founding this Gettysburg Asylum. Here indeed, is a chance for charity to receive a (literally) "brilliant" reward. There are to be eighty thousand subscribers at five dollars each, and every shilling over the mere cost of the diamonds and the requisite expense for placing the thing before the public will be devoted to the Soldiers' Home.

Demorest's Monthly.

This beautiful and favorite periodical comes to us with all the freshness and fragrance of the June roses. It improves with every issue, and we are not surprised that ladies find it the indispensable companion of their working as well as their leisure hours. Its varied contents embrace almost every topic of interest in the parlor, kitchen, and nursery, while its sensible tone and the amount of valuable information furnished, not to speak of the money value of its excellent patterns, render it a capital investment of $3, without the premium which is sent for every yearly subscription. Address W. DEMOREST, 473 Broadway, N. Y.

Those of our readers who lack a growth of hair upon the face, or whose hair is falling out, or have become bald, would do well to try "Dr. Sargis's Restorative Capillaire." This preparation has been used by thousands in this country and Europe, with the most gratifying results. Testimonials of the most flattering character have been received from the most wealthy and influential citizens of the country, and will be sent free to any one, on application, by Messrs. BARNES, SMITH & CO., Chemists, of Troy, N. Y., the only agents in America for the sale of the same. Read their advertisement in this paper.

Of the many Cosmetics and Toilet Articles now advertised, but few prove to be what they are represented. Messrs. BARNES, SMITH & CO., Chemists, of Troy, N. Y., are advertising extensively several articles that have proved themselves just as represented, for which they are acting as agents. We believe them to be perfectly trustworthy, and that parties using their preparations will find them fully up to the recommendations given. See their advertisement in another column of this paper.

Chapman's Challenge.

To the Voters of Popular Scientific Societies, in Vindication of the Truth and Superiority of Origin of the Records of the Creation, just as those Records read. In a magazine form, quarterly, or oftener. 25 c. singly, or five successive numbers for $1.00. Address, L. L. CHAPMAN, Box 482, P. O., Philadelphia, Pa. A work which all should read.

There is a great deal of sickness in the neighborhood of Hanover, principally fevers, but the fatality has not been great. Hanover itself continues healthy.

The large "Central Hotel" in Hanover, has been sold to Lewis and Ignatius Dillone for $6,700 cash.

Exhibitions.

The pupils of Mr. Paul Heist's school, at New Oxford, gave two Exhibitions in the school building in that place on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of week before last, which were well attended by the citizens of the village and the surrounding country, the building being filled each evening with large and fashionable audiences. The pupils are said to have acquitted themselves each and all in a highly creditable manner, alike gratifying to their preceptor and respective friends. The Orchestra, from Hanover, was present each evening and enlivened the proceedings with choice selections of music, discoursed in the inimitable style peculiar to that accomplished body of musicians.

We regret to announce the sudden demise of Hon. A. W. Benedict, clerk of the House of Representatives. Mr. Benedict was one of the most prominent and active, as well as successful politicians of this State. He filled the office of Clerk of the House, on several occasions, with great acceptance, and was an able and efficient officer. He was also, for a number of years past, one of the Secretaries of the State Central Committee. Mr. Benedict had also occupied the positions of Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth, and member of the House. Mr. Benedict was a man of genial temperament, and fine social qualities, and by his uniform courtesy and urbanity, he made himself many friends. He was also a man of untiring energy and perseverance, and was always prompt and punctual in the performance of duty.

Recording of Soldiers' Discharge Papers.

There is no doubt that many just claims on the Government for military services have been lost for the reason that the original claimants or their heirs were not able to furnish the proper papers, on account of mutilation or loss. The Legislature of Pennsylvania made provisions to prevent future loss on this account, by requiring the Records of the several counties to place on record the discharges of soldiers, so that in case of their being lost or destroyed, the proofs will still remain on the county records.

WM. BLAIR & SON, Importers of Queens ware and Wholesale Groceries, South End, Carlisle, Pa.

We offer to the public a large assortment of Glassware at nearly 50 per cent. reduction on former prices.

Coal Oil Lamps, Chandeliers, Hall Bracket and Stand Lamps, Looking Glasses, Table Furniture, &c., at greatly reduced prices.

Hubbard's Self-Raking Reaper & Mower.

With this celebrated Revolving Self-Raker, the driver can make the sheaf any size he wishes by means of a small lever. It can also be changed, by a single bolt, to throw a sheaf each revolution of the Rake without the aid of the driver. It can also swath oats or spots of green grain. Persons desiring to see the above machine can do so by calling upon Messrs. THOMAS & SON, Golden's Station, Gettysburg R. R.

The Hanover Spectator says that the crop of peaches and plums will be almost a total failure there, on account of the bad being injured by the frosts. We have no record of this being the case in our section of country.

Killed by the Indians.

Sergeant Samuel McClure, of Company I, 27th Regiment U. S. Infantry, only brother of Col. A. K. McClure, was killed by Indians, on the 27th of March last, near Fort Reno, Dakota Territory. While engaged in hunting game, a few miles from the camp, for the sick in the hospital, he was overtaken and brutally murdered.

Gen. McCausland.

The rebel Gen. McCausland, who burned Chambersburg by order of General Early, is now residing at his home in Mason county, West Virginia. A Virginia exchange says he has been favored by Gen. Grant with a letter which exempts him from any danger of imprisonment or trial for the Chambersburg affair, and he has every assurance of protection from the authorities of the State of West Virginia.

The Commissioners of the contemplated Railroad from Frederick to Littlestown, give notice that they will sit at Frederick, Walkersville, Woodsboro', Middleburg and Taneytown, the 20th of May inst., to receive subscriptions to the stock of said Company. The capital is to be $1,000,000, in shares of $50. As soon as one thousand shares are taken, the subscribers shall be incorporated. Much interest is felt in the work, and it is hoped that early success will attend it.

The Eight-hour Labor bill which was introduced in the Pennsylvania Legislature did not become a law. It passed the House, but was referred to the Judiciary Committee in the Senate, and was not reported back to the Senate for action.

There is now believed to be little doubt that Jeff. Davis will be tried during the present term of the United States Circuit Court at Richmond. Judge Underwood announced in Court on Wednesday that Chief Justice Chase would come to Richmond on the adjournment of the Supreme Court. Ex-President Pierce was at Fortress Monroe yesterday, and had an interview with Mr. Davis. Two more had failed, as Presidents, never met before, in this country at least. Ex-President Buchanan would have been a suitable addition to the gathering.

The storm of last week was very severe all over the country. At New York some damage was done to the shipping. At Baltimore it is said to have been the heaviest ever known at this season of the year. The Susquehanna river was nearly up to the height of the great flood of 1865, and a large amount of saved lumber floated down from the lumber country. The Delaware was also very high.

Our European despatches show that the great Reform meeting in London passed off without any disorder whatever, and the services of the extra police force the authorities had enrolled for the occasion were altogether unnecessary. The opinion is expressed in London that Burke and Doran, the condemned Penitents in Ireland, will not be executed. The rebellion in China is reported to be spreading, and Nankin is threatened by the Rebels.

Mr. Stevens' Opinion on the Situation.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune, dated Thursday, contains the following in relation to Mr. Stevens' views as to the political prospects ahead of us:

Yesterday morning Thaddeus Stevens was assisted to the Baltimore depot by some of his friends, whence he departed for Lancaster. A special car, fitted up for his reception with conveniences necessary to an invalid, was provided for him by arrangement with the several railroads. The car was taken through to Lancaster without delay. It was Mr. Stevens' intention to remain here most if not all the summer to look after various matters, but information obtained by him a few days since, as to the intention of the Cabinet and the President in regard to their future policy, decided him to leave. Upon going away he expressed himself as greatly satisfied with the course questions were taking here, and said that he was more hopeful of the future than he had been for months.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—From present indications it is not improbable that the expenditures of the War Department will be immensely in excess of the estimates made for the purpose. The requisitions of the War Department for quartermasters' service, pay and subsistence Departments, miscellaneous service and freedmen's bureau, since the 1st of March and up to this date, two months and seven days, amount to $25,934,805 87: which, however, includes $1,304,711 26, the amount found due the State of Pennsylvania for expenses during the rebellion, as her quota of direct tax. This does not include $400,000 requested for the pay department, upon which no warrant has issued.

From this it appears that the expenses of the War Department for this fiscal year will be from one hundred and twenty to one hundred and fifty millions, or five to six times as much as the estimated expenses.

A Richmond despatch announces the meeting of the United States Court, and gives an abstract of Judge Underwood's charge to the Grand Jury, among the members of which are Hon. John Minor Botts, Hon. Joseph Segar, ex Mayor McKenzie of Alexandria, and five colored men. The Judge said that the Court had been threatened with assassination, but, thanks to the legislation of Congress, it was now in security. He denounced the press of Richmond as disloyal, and said it had encouraged perjury and counterfeiting to cheat the Government out of the United States. The Examiner claims to have information that the session of the Court will be prolonged until the adjournment of the Supreme Court, when Chief Justice Chase will preside at Davis' trial. The latter is expected in Richmond on Saturday.

The intimation that Mr. Johnson proposes to diversify his southern trip by an occasional speech causes alarm to some of his supporters and awakens dissenting recollections in the minds of some who were his supporters at the time of his Western tour last year. The New York Tribune, for instance, thinks that the dignity of his office has a more potent speech-making and undignified and undignified than Mr. Johnson, though a very eloquent and effective popular orator, does not happily combine that character with the dignity and sense of propriety essential to his office. But then did not Mr. Johnson last year expressly say: "we think it was at St. Louis that he left his dignity behind him in Washington."

Death of Eli Lewis, Esq.

This highly respected citizen of York died in that place, on Saturday week, aged 77 years. He was President of the First National Bank of York, and has held various positions of trust in all which he had the entire confidence and respect of the community. He was at one time Editor of the Baltimore Patriot, and afterwards of the York Republican. He was a gentleman of the "old school," of urbanity and kindly manners, and had the friendship of all who knew him. He was a brother of Hon. Ellis Lewis, formerly of the Supreme Court of Penna.

Counterfeit Coin.

Detectives Joshua Taggart and Charles S. Smith arrested a man on Saturday night, at Sixth and Market streets, having in his possession $300 of the counterfeit of American half eagles. He also had six Mexican silver dollars of the same base character. He gave the name of W. J. Bishop, and hailed from Western Virginia. On his person was a letter recommending him as a worthy agent for the distressed people of the South. Alderman Beiler committed him, in default of $8,000 bail, to appear before a United States Commissioner.—Phila. Press.

Virginia Wheat.

The wheat crop in all this part of our great Valley is looking most promising indeed. We have never seen it looking better. The weather since the close of winter has been exceedingly favorable for the young wheat. It fairly smiles in the exuberance of its life and beauty. What is true of the fields of wheat in Rockingham is equally true of the wheat in Augusta, Shenandoah, and, in fact, of all the Valley counties. Surely we have great cause for the indulgence of gratitude to God for His goodness to us as manifested in the cheering prospects of the coming harvest.—Rockingham Register.

Emigrants Going Westward.

Within three days, last week, upwards of ten thousand emigrants from Europe arrived at New York. A large majority of these foreigners have already passed through Harrisburg, via the Pennsylvania railroad, en route for the West, whither they go to seek homes. Our territories cannot fail to improve rapidly, if emigration continues.

Washington despatches state that the Government has directed the surrender of Jefferson Davis in obedience to the habeas corpus issued by Judge Underwood, and also assert that he will be tried during the present term of the United States Court in Richmond, and that Chief Justice Chase, though not on the bench, will be present and advise with Judge Underwood in the course to be pursued.

Chicago, May 6.—A fire occurred at Cambridge, Ill., three miles south of Rock Island, yesterday, destroying all the business portion of the town except one store and one hotel. Loss estimated at $100,000. Insured for $25,000.

Presbyterian Convention.

New York, May 7.—The joint committee of the two Presbyterian General Assemblies, Old and New School, after a session of a week in this city, have agreed upon terms of a reunion with remarkable unanimity. These terms are to go before the church a year before final action.

The jury in the case of John H. Rogers, one of the parties in the Mechanics' National Bank embezzlement case, found him guilty, and Judge Giles sentenced him to five years' imprisonment.

The Republicans of Westminster, Md., have elected their entire city officers, Mayor and Council. All are "Radicals."

A new ocean telegraph company was incorporated by the Legislature of New York, which is to connect New York city with Brest, France. According to the terms of the bill, the company will forfeit their grant if they fail to complete the work within the stipulated two years. They are to have the exclusive right, for a period of twenty years, to lay telegraphic cables connecting New York with France, and it is stipulated that the State of New York shall have priority of privilege in the transmission of messages.

STEVENSON HOUSE,

21, 23, 25 and 27 Broadway, New York.

OPPOSITE BOWLING GREEN.

ON THE EUROPEAN PLAN.

THE STEVENSON HOUSE is well and widely known to the traveling public. The location is especially suitable to merchants and business men; it is in close proximity to the business part of the city—on the highway of Southern and Western travel—and adjacent to all the principal Railroad and Steamboat depots.

THE STEVENSON HOUSE has liberal accommodation for over 300 guests—it is well furnished, and possesses every modern improvement for the comfort and entertainment of its inmates. The rooms are spacious and well ventilated—provided with gas and water—the attendance is prompt and respectful—and the table is generously provided with every delicacy of the season—at moderate rates.

GEO. K. CHASE & CO., Proprietors.
